- 1 This week's topic was important for teamwork because it was all about personality and self reflection
- 2 I taught my wife about what we learned in class and she told me she had never thought about how knowing yourself could help you understand how others see you as well.
- 3 I plan on contributing to my team by having a full understanding of myself so that I can help them know what I mean by knowing what I need to change about how I say things.
- 4 This experience relates because I know in the past I have had times where the thing I mean to say comes off as something different due to my personality. I know that If I am able to clarify and understand my personality more, I can help others understand me.
- 5 If this were a religion class, I would reference what we learned to self reflection and looking inward to help not only yourself, but also others to see who you really are.
